This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.

+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.

+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.

+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

REPORT OF THE LIBRARY COMMITTEE

TO THE

General Committee of the City Liberal Club.

When it was determined to provide the Club with a Library it became a matter for consideration on what basis it should be formed. If it were attempted to make it a general Library, it would for a long time remain a collection of miscellaneous literature, of limited use to the members and of small credit to the Club, as it could not possess the completeness of those Libraries which had been established by large expenditure during half a century.

The General Committee determined that its two chief objects should be those suited to the members of the Club—that of Politics, and that of Commerce, but not excluding General Literature. With the objects so defined they constituted a Library Committee. It was understood that under Politics should be included History, Memoirs, which afford so much detail as to practical politics, and the statesmen engaged in them, Biography, Speeches, and works relating to the political sciences. Commerce was considered to embrace books on Geography, Travels, Commercial Products, Economic Science, and Statistics.

In undertaking their task the Library Committee were greatly encouraged by the munificent donation of One Thousand Pounds from Mrs. George Hamilton Fletcher, with full discretion in its application. The Committee are now in a position to offer to Mrs. Fletcher this Catalogue, which will enable her to see in what manner her generosity has been responded to, and that in the books provided as well as in the use made of them, this Library of the City Liberal Club has become a fitting memorial of her husband, and of their late friend, George Hamilton Fletcher. His memory is dear to many from the deep interest he took in the organization and advancement of the Liberal Party in the City of London, especially as Chairman of the City of London Liberal Registration Association.

As the value of the Library has become better known, so has its use increased among the older and younger members. To most of the books a book-plate is attached, showing it to belong to the George Hamilton Fletcher donation.

The Library has also profited by the generosity of another lady, Mrs. William Newmarch. As the widow of one of our founders, and an original member of our Committee, Mr. William Newmarch, F.R.S., she became the possessor of his library, with power of disposition. Having placed a large portion of the books with the Statistical Society with which he was most actively connected, that lady placed in this Club, in which he had taken great political interest, another portion of valuable books. A bookcase bears the name of William Newmarch, and will record his memory as an historian of finance and a student of financial science.

At the head of those who are donors of books stands the Duke of Westminster, who has bestowed on us a collection of works all bearing on political subjects, and particularly rich in rare Reports of the House of Lords. To this collection the name of the Duke has been attached.

On the occasion of the completion of the statue of Mr. Gladstone, now adorning the hall, a balance of £200 remained. This was, by the subscribers, devoted to the Library, and the Committee have been enabled thereby to establish another memorial to Mr. Gladstone. The funds have been applied to the acquisition of the works of Mr. Gladstone, and of those illustrating his public career. This Gladstone Section will be found already fairly complete, and it necessarily includes many illustrations of contemporary politics during the long career of that eminent statesman.

In a city, where for two centuries many votaries of political science have dwelt, wherein the foundations of political economy and statistics were established, and where political history has in our own days been cultivated, it seemed desirable that a Library should exist where provision for such studies should be made. Good parliamentary and statistical collections are to be found elsewhere, but the more definite political objects have not been made so fully prominent.

In the disposal of their resources the Committee have proceeded steadily, so as to give the members the greatest amount of advantage. They did not expend the money at once, but have endeavoured to lay it out judiciously in acquiring the desired works. As a general principle they have bought books in English, and in good condition, but have not thought it right to apply funds in expensive binding. When purchasing books at sales they have acquired other works, and these, with the donations of many members taking an interest in the Library, constitute additions outside the specific objects of the collection. There are also some books on loan deposited in the Library. While current publications of reference are provided, the Committee have not thought it necessary to buy new books at considerable expense, which members desirous of consulting could find in a circulating library.

The bookcases were purchased from the George Hamilton Fletcher Fund, and have been arranged so as to permit of the classification of the books during purchase and collection.

In the general arrangements, as well as in this Catalogue, the Library Committee have adopted as their standard the practice of the Reform Club, as much because it is likely to be known to many of our members as because it is the result of the experience of many competent men.

However much a printed catalogue was wished for, its production would at an earlier time have been costly and of little use. A slip catalogue was compiled as early as possible. The Committee have not applied to the members for money, though they have received some donations, and their object has been to avoid making such appeal, and properly to apply the funds in hand. When, however, it became possible to print a catalogue, subscriptions of half a guinea were invited, and, on a portion of the expense being so provided, this work was put in hand.

As many of the members are not in the habit of frequenting the Reading-room, it may be useful to state what are the chief contents of the Library and the chief subjects of this Catalogue.

The Catalogue itself consists of two parts—the names of authors in alphabetical order, and the Classified Catalogue referring to those authors under the various heads under which the reader is likely to seek them, so that, if not found in one, they may be recognized in some other class. No pains have been spared in this, so as to save the labour of readers.

The History of England, Scotland, and Ireland forms a main subject, and there is much material for the history of other countries, not neglecting the United States and India.

Memoirs and Biography furnish the living details of history. Contemporary memoirs are provided, and the series has been continued through the last century into the seventeenth and sixteenth centuries. Few statesmen are omitted, for whom materials exist. There are many works on Junius.

The Speeches of the Statesmen of England, Ireland, and the United States constitute one set of evidence as to their careers, which ought not to be neglected, and are records at the same time, of the great school of eloquence of modern days. These works have been found very useful.

The Debates are not provided in a series, as they take up much room, and are accessible elsewhere. There are, however, sufficient books of this class for general purposes.

Whether the Parliamentary Reports are considered in this section, or as relating to that of Commerce, they will be found to embrace most of the leading subjects required for reference.

What relates to Constitutional History, and the Statutes connected therewith, has received special attention. In recent political discussions these materials have been much consulted.

The collection of State and other Trials will be found to include the leading cases and many curious publications.

Manuals of Election Law convey information to the latest date.

Personal History is supplemented by Peerages, Baronetages, and works of Heraldry.

Extensive materials for the same purpose are found in a collection of Poll-books.

Under the section of COMMERCE many subjects are embraced.

Geography is largely illustrated by descriptions of Countries, Travels, Voyages, Nautical Works, &c., and there are few places which are or may become of interest on which information cannot be obtained.

For the Colonies, India, and the United States special provision is made.

There are some few Guide Books.

The materials are brought together for an Atlas on a large scale of many hundred maps.

Works of reference have been obtained on many industrial pursuits, and also information on joint stock companies and individual enterprizes.

The works on Currency, Banking, &c., with those on Political Economy, contain many rare and valuable contributions and autograph letters.

The series of Directories old and new is becoming large. The P. O. London Directories are much searched for information relating to many periods in this century.

Among topographical works may be mentioned a department relating to London and the City Guilds and Companies. There is also much material on Archæology. The works on Municipal Institutions may be referred to here.

For reference in the commercial languages of Europe, Dictionaries nd Grammars will be found.

The Foreign Office Circular and Board of Trade Returns are kept up to date, so far as they are essential for information on business subjects.

The Encyclopædia Britannica and the Dictionary of National Biography are obtained as issued.

For works in General Literature the Library is still dependent on the contributions of members, though the nucleus of a collection has been formed, and portions of the other divisions are available. Many members have hesitated to give books, fearing their donations may not be useful or welcome, but the issue of this Catalogue will enable them to see what deficiencies they can supply, as, for instance, County Histories.

Works of reference have been provided, including those for the study of the English language, and a series of Dictionaries; among them that of the Philological Society now in progress.

It has not been without utility, so far as other branches of history are concerned, that Ecclesiastical History is now well represented, including that of many sects.

The Times has only been filed from the time of the foundation of the Club (1874), and for earlier dates it can be consulted elsewhere, for which purpose the Index to the Times is purchased.

In order that this Catalogue may be carried to completion without charge to the general funds of the Club or to those of the Library, the further subscriptions of members are requested.

For Subscribers a bound copy will be provided, and a list of Subscribers will be published in the volume.

Those who may hereafter subscribe will also receive a bound copy, and their names will be included in a supplemental list of Subscribers.

An unbound copy of the Catalogue will be sent to each non-subscribing member of the Club. It is hoped that the circulation of the Catalogue will be of use to each member in consulting the Library and that it may lead to donations of money or books for extending the collection.

The Class Catalogue, which is very copious, will, as has been stated, enable the members to find what is available on each subject, or, when they do not know the name of the author, will enable them to ascertain it. For their convenience pamphlets and portions of books are indexed, as well as bound volumes.

The Catalogue is carried up to the latest possible date by inserting in the Class Index with † those works acquired too late to be entered in the Alphabetical Catalogue.

There are also in the Library, for the purpose of assisting research, Catalogues of Libraries and Books, and other Bibliographical information.

There are several classes of books which it is not proposed to purchase, as they can be found in

The Guildhall Library,

The Library of Zion College,
The London Institution, or in the Library of some scientific society. The Secretary will give assistance to members desirous of acquiring information from such institutions.

This Catalogue will be kept in type for some time, so that the new donations of members may be inserted in it. An early notice of such contributions is desired.

In conclusion, the Committee desire to record their appreciation of the services rendered by Mr. Deverell, who has spared no pains or private time and trouble in the arduous labour of the formation and arrangement of the Library, and in compiling this Catalogue.
